Just some notes on this PCO-

Yes, that cost increase is to replace the lights in those three rooms. We will not be using the original lights that were not compatible with the ceiling. A few of them will be reused in the attic space to save costs.

The original PCO23 was for over $1500. That was just for a trim kit. We rejected that one. The new one is for the slim LEDs. We saved $500 verses PCO23, plus whatever it would have cost for the light fixtures in the attic space.
